Why should you work with an REC Audited agency?

REC Audited
The gold standard for recruitment

Recruitment &
Employment Confederation

Why should you work with an REC Audited agency?

REC Audited is a robust process undertaken by a recruitment business to validate their compliance with industry legislation.

REC Audited is more than just proving compliance. It requires recruitment businesses to demonstrate they are operating best practice in a variety of areas such as customer service, staff development and diversity.

Agencies displaying the REC Audited logo have been independently verified by the REC.

REC Audited shows that an agency is operating at the highest standard. Clients can be confident they are using an accredited supplier that is accountable to a professional body.
